

12 BELIEVED KILLED IN BIG WRECK ON G.T.R.

A. B. WATT, MANAGING EDITOR OF THE CAPITAL,
AMONG THOSE INJURED IN A REAR-END COLLISION
—TRAIN FOLLOWING DID NOT HEAR OR SEE SIG-NAL UNTIL TOO LATE.

A. Balmer Watt, managing editor and publisher of the Daily Capital and the Saturday News, was injured in a terrible wreck which took place late Wednesday night, near Flint, Michigan on the main line of the Grand Trunk Chicago-Montreal division. Mr. Watt was burned about the face and arms, but is not thought to be seriously injured. A telegram from Flint states that he is not in any danger. He is in the Hurley Hospital there.

Mr. Watt left town last Sunday to spend a brief holiday in Toronto and other eastern points.

Flint, Mich., Aug. 25.—In the rear end collision between passenger trains Numbers Four and Fourteen, both east-bound on the Grand Trunk railway, two miles east of Durand, late last night, eight passengers are known to have been killed, three were probably fatally injured, and five were seriously hurt. It is reported that only four passengers are still missing. Train Number Fourteen stopped to repair a defective brake when Number Four crashed into the sleeper of the standing train. The engine on Number Four ploughed half way through the sleeper, crushing to death some of the sleeping passengers. The wreckage of the sleeper caught fire and others of the passengers were burned or scalded. It is said that there were 18 passengers on the ill-fated car.

Heard Torpedo Too Late
When the forward train stopped, a brakeman was sent back to signal the train following, but the explosion of the torpedo which was placed on the track as a warning was heard too late by the engineer of Number Four to stop his train.

As fast as they were recovered from the ruins of the burned sleeper, the bodies of the dead were taken to Durand. Some of the injured were taken to that village and others were brought to the hospital in this city. The dead bodies recovered during the night are two unidentified, one about fifty years old, and the other about sixty, and six passengers whose bodies were so badly scalded and burned as to make identification difficult, if not impossible.

The Seriously Injured
The following are at Hurley hospital very badly injured: Bert Mitchell, Battle Creek, engineer of train Number Fourteen, head crushed, condition critical; Mrs. Lester Sheltos, Chicago, aged 28, scalp wound and bruises; Arthur B. Watt, Edmonton, Alberta, aged 33, face and hands burned; Mrs. Kate McLean, Chicago, aged 63, right leg fractured; Mrs. Lester Dochler, Tavistock, Ont., aged 73, fractured leg and bruises.

The injured, who were taken to the hospital at Durand are George Nelson, Battle Creek, fireman on Number Four, badly scalded, will probably die; Clinton A. Davies, Montreal, probably fatally scalded; Mrs. M. Stovely, Du-lu-ho, Iowa, upper lip cut and several injuries; Bert Mitchell, of Port Huron, engineer of train No. Four was injured about the head.

May Be Mrs. Davies
The body of one of the two dead women may be that of Mrs. Davies, mother of Clinton A. Davies, of Montreal, who was injured. One of the bodies corresponds to Mrs. Davies' description as to size. Mrs. Davies was an invalid, travelling with her son and a nurse.

Chas. Spencer, Battle Creek, engineer, is stated to have been badly injured, but his name does not appear on the list given out by the railroad officials as being taken to the hospital at either Durand or Flint.

Estimates Dead at Twelve
Detroit, Mich., Aug. 25.—The Detroit Journal estimates the number of dead in last night's wreck on the Grand Trunk railroad near Durand as twelve and gives as a list of dead: Mrs. Davies, 20 Stanley street, Montreal; Mrs. Lucy E. Gillpin, 643 East 45th street, Chicago; three unidentified women; an unidentified man; a small child and five bodies believed to be in the wreck.

Durand, Mich., Aug. 26.—Clinton A. Davies, of Montreal, and Fireman Geo. Nelson, who were seriously injured in the Grand Trunk wreck east of here Wednesday, were today resting easier. The injured who were taken to Hurley Hospital at Flint also passed a comfortable night, except in the case of Engineer Bert Mitchell. The latter's condition is very serious but it is now believed that he will recover. Grand Trunk officials will begin an investigation of the wreck today at Battle Creek.

PANAMA CANAL TO BE DONE IN 1915

Everything Is Fine in Canal Zone
Is Word Brought to New York

New York, Aug. 26.—Everything is fine in the Panama canal zone and the great waterway will be finished in 1915, was the word brought here by Colonel Thomas M. Cook, collector of the port of the international revenue and postmaster general of the canal zone, as he came today off the steamship Santa Maria for a short visit.

COMMITTEE TO FIND PRINCIPAL

Joint Meeting of Board of Managers and Senate of Presbyterian College Was Held

A joint meeting of the board of managers and the senate of the new Presbyterian college in connection with the provincial university was held in First Presbyterian Church on Wednesday evening.

There was a good attendance from all parts of Alberta, including J. R. Munro of Palmer, Rev. Hugh McKellar of Midnapore, the moderator of the Synod of Alberta, and the Rev. John Clark of Calgary. The appointment of a chairman and of an executive and other preliminaries were at once carried through and the meeting got down to work.

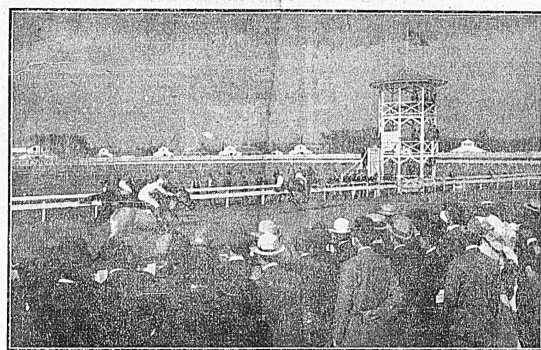

The immediate purpose of the meeting was to take steps towards securing a principal. A strong and representative sub-committee of eleven members was appointed to look the field over. They will report at an early joint meeting of the senate and managers and the subsequent appointment will be subject to the approval of the synod. Rev. J. A. Clark of Calgary is convener and Prof. McEachern of the university is secretary to the committee.

The question of naming the college was brought up for discussion, but nothing definite resulted. The committee will welcome any suggestions to a name.

Everything looks favorable for the new college. A vigorous executive and a strong spirit of unity in the governing bodies would seem to promise a great future for this institution.

FROM OKLAHOMA TO EDMONTON
It is a far call from Oklahoma to Alberta, but distance did not deter two farmers who arrived from the southern state yesterday. They settled originally in California, removed to Oklahoma, but heard so much about the Edmonton district that they decided to remove here. They will be followed in a few days by all their effects.

THRESHING NOW AROUND PORTAGE

Expected That the Yield in That District Will Average Twenty Bushels

Portage La Prairie, Aug. 26.—Ideal threshing weather is what the farmers of the Portage Plains are now securing and in less than two weeks of this kind of weather they will have their work completed. In every direction threshing outfits dot the farms and the work is being pushed rapidly. Three or four threshers who have done enough work already to obtain an estimate of the yield state that the average will be around twenty bushels to the acre. In the past the yield has been as much as thirty-five bushels, and the wheat is of good quality. This average may be reduced a little when the complete returns are in but it is not expected that the reduction will be very material and the total average will run close to twenty bushels.

FARMERS DAY AT THE FAIR

Big Crowds Are Filling Up the Grounds in Spite of the Cloudy Weather

MANY RACES ON TODAY

High Jumping Competition Will Be Feature This Afternoon

MORE PRIZE WINNERS

Weather Man Promises Warmer Weather Tomorrow for the Biggest Day of All

Yesterday's Figures

"This has been an exceedingly successful day," said Manager Harrison last night when he turned over to the branch office of the Merchants' Bank on the grounds a deposit slip amounting to over $8000.

20,000 people visited the grounds of which 12,000 paid admission, the remainder being officials and pass holders.

1,000 people occupied the grand stand during the 11-admission receipts totaling $2,000.

The net railway during the day carried 25,000, while the two railway companies transported 10,000 with a total revenue of $1,500.

All records of attendance at any event ever held in the city have been broken by the Exhibition yesterday.

The weather man seals in his report saying that today and tomorrow will be fine and cool and although it might not be regarded by some that today would be pleasant; at the exhibition, still the crowds which poured into the grounds, beginning early in the morning will testify to the fact that it is neither too hot nor too cool—but just right.

Today is expected to be another big day at the fair, and provision is being made accordingly. The judges are now busy judging the horses and the stock judging competition is being got through in the Shorthorn building.

There will be a big race programme to be run off this afternoon with a long list of attractions on the platform opposite the grand stand with three bands—the pipers, the citizens and the Strathcona band, in attendance.

High Jumping Competition
At 4 p.m. there will be a grand parade in the enclosure inside the race track in which sixty of the finest stallions in the west will take part.

At 5 p.m. the high jumping competition open to all horses, will take place. There is a large entry and the record is being pushed.

At 7 p.m. there will be several more races run after which there will be turns by the performers on the attraction platform, until dark when the fireworks will be displayed. Fine as the display was last night—tonight will be better, ending with a panoramic fireworks, 300 feet long representing the Battle of the North Sea.

INQUEST TOMORROW

Post Mortem on Remains of Murdered Man Was Held Yesterday

The post mortem examination of the remains of Roman Folekovich, the Galician, who was murdered last week, was held yesterday afternoon, but the result will not be made known until the inquest is continued tomorrow evening. The inquest met on Wednesday night, but on account of the post mortem not having been made it adjourned without the hearing of any additional evidence. It is understood that Chief Laney has asked for an adjournment from Saturday for a week or ten days in order that additional evidence may be collected.

CORNWALL PRESS PARTY AT GROUND

Secretary Fisher of the Board of Trade Sent Congratulatory Message

Breathe freely once more! The incomparable Jim is bringing down his party from the north, safe from muskies and mosquitoes. That was not the most serious cause of anxiety, but a telegram received from Ground, by the Board of Trade, intimated that they had also escaped their own shotguns and automobiles with which they went armed into the north.

The following telegrams were received and sent by the local Board of Trade.

"F. T. Fisher:

Secretary Board of Trade,

Edmonton:

"Arrived here tonight in good health. Had a fine trip and splendid weather. All delighted with the country."

J. K. CORNWALL,

Ground, Alta.

"We congratulate you on piloting your party so successfully. Our good wishes are with you all for the remainder of the journey."

F. T. FISHER, Secretary,

Edmonton Board of Trade.

PREMIER LAURIER AT KAMLOOPS B.C.

Town Gave Premier's Party An Enthusiastic Welcome Last Night—Big Meeting Held

Kamloops, B. C., Aug. 26.—After a day of travel in the Rocky Mountains, Premier Laurier and party were accorded a reception here tonight. The town was brilliantly illuminated with electric light, and a big meeting gave the Premier an enthusiastic greeting. Addresses were given by Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Hon. Geo. P. Graham, Fred Pardee and Mr. MacDonald.

CITY HOLDS TRUMP CARD IN THE DISPUTE

COMMISSIONERS SEND STRONG LETTER TO THE ROBERTS FILTER COMPANY TELLING OF METHODS OF THEIR REPRESENTATIVE.

"He indicated at first," says the letter, "that he was strongly prejudiced; we thought at first in favor of your company, but we discovered later that he was in favor of himself, as having been in charge of and responsible for the plant last year. As the result of a number of conferences that we had with Mr. Boyle, all at his request, we are positive in our belief that he came here pre-determined to defend himself and in his efforts to that end he employed what in our judgment were unbusinesslike methods, if not actually underhanded, the last of which was to obtain the signatures of laborers in the employ of the waterworks department to ready-made affidavits, and the men now freely admit to us they did not know what they were signing."

Commissioner Bouillon—"The matter will remain in abeyance until we receive an answer to this letter. We are playing our cards well, and we think that this is a trump. We haven't exhausted our hand yet, and I think the honors are all on our side."

The breach between the Roberts Filter Manufacturing Company, of Montreal, and the city commissioners, over the filter plant, is widening. A week or so ago, E. C. Boyle, representative of the company, left the city after having fruitless conferences with the city commissioners, which were held with a view to apportioning the cost of the repairs, which were necessary this spring, owing to, as the city claims, the negligence of the company.

Send Strong Letter

The conduct of Mr. Boyle, while here, formed a basis for a strong letter by the commissioners to the company. According to the letter Mr. Boyle came as the representative of the Roberts Company in connection with the contract, but as the city had already taken the work of repairing the plant in hand, his arrival caused no change in the procedure, but, however, was allowed full access to the plant.

Was Prejudiced
"He indicated at first," continued the letter, "that he was strongly prejudiced; we thought at first in favor of your company, but we discovered later that he was in favor of himself, as having been in charge of and responsible for the plant last year. As a result of a number of conferences that we had with Mr. Boyle, all at his request, we are positive in our belief that he came here pre-determined to defend himself and in his efforts to that end he employed what in our judgment were unbusinesslike methods, if not actually underhanded, the last of which was to obtain the signatures of laborers in the employ of the waterworks department to ready-made affidavits, and the men now freely admit to us they did not know what they were signing."

"The letter goes on to say that the city did not know that they were signing," it stated, "during his stay in Edmonton, except to gather evidence in defense of his own personality, in the event of our pressing our claim against you."

The commissioners stated that they did not believe that the Roberts Company would tolerate such conduct as that shown by Mr. Boyle while here. Held Trump Card
"We have every reason to believe," it continued, "that Mr. Boyle neglected the plant during construction last year and during its operation, which accounts for the condition of the plant as we found it this spring."

The letter closed with a request that the company shoulder half the cost of the repairs, which total $524.23. When asked by the Capital if there was any likelihood of litigation, Mr. Bouillon replied that he was not a prophet.

"The matter will remain in abeyance until we receive an answer to this letter. We are playing our cards well, and we think that this is the trump. We haven't exhausted our hand yet, and I think the honors are all on our side."

ONE HUNDRED AND SIXTY ARE LOST IN FOREST FIRES

GREATEST FIRES IN THE HISTORY OF THE UNITED STATES ARE SWEEPING OVER NORTHWESTERN STATES.

Seattle, Wash., Aug. 26.—Within the last 48 hours forest fires of serious proportions have broken out in all sections of Western Washington. Fanned by a strong northwest wind the fires have spread with alarming rapidity and have destroyed the timber of the lumbermen's associations have been impressing all available men to aid in combating the flames.

Portland, Aug. 26.—Reports to Wallace indicate that of Ranger Hollingshead's 30 men lost in the Big Creek district fourteen bodies have been found and the 16 men are missing. Of the 60 men on Setzer Creek, 48 bodies have been found and five men are missing. These 62 deaths of forest employees added to the 21 deaths at the Bullion mine and on the Big Forks and the deaths in Montana and various parts of Idaho Creek, would bring the total of deaths in the service up to 100.

Revised List of Dead

Spokane, Wash., Aug. 26.—The following is a revised list of the number killed in the Idaho, Montana and Washington fires last Saturday and Sunday. The United States forest employees in Idaho and Montana, 100; settlers and fire fighters in St. Joe, Idaho, 50; at New Port, Washington, 40; at Wallace, Idaho, 37; at Mulls and Spokane, 3, Total, 190. The Montana forest official list of 79 employees admits 21 killed with the Bullion mine in Montana and on the Big Fork of the Coeur D'Alene.

The appalling loss of life among the forest employees has taken the heart out of the surviving foresters and an order has been issued not to risk life. The little fires are being extinguished, but the great fires, to fight which might result in more loss of life, will be allowed to burn themselves out or until the rains extinguish them.

Can't Estimate Timber Loss
In the Coeur D'Alene mining country, the fires have exhausted their fuel as also they have done in the Pen D'Oreille Valley. In the Clearwater country and the thickest timber of the Coeur D'Alene national forest, however, the flames are hungry and active as ever. No lumbermen or foresters will give an estimate of the timber losses. Even after the fires are out it will be difficult to reckon the cost.

It is believed, however, that the present fires are the most expensive the United States has ever known. A prominent railroad builder estimates the loss of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul, at $10,000,000.

HOW EDISON DISCOVERED
SOME OF HIS INVENTIONS

THE TELEPHONE WAS DISCOVERED WHILE TRYING TO IMPROVE THE TELEGRAPH—MADE PAPER FIG-URES DANCE.

A fascinating interview with Edison, the great inventor, appeared in Munsey's Magazine for July. It seems to contain much new material.
Sixty-four years of age and still hard at work, Edison has crowded into his life a unique record of public utility and invention. Listen to these tales.

Here is the way in which experiments with the telephone led him to invention of the phonograph.
Edison, Bell and Gray had been working on a new kind of telegraph.
They were trying to do away with the sticker at each end of the wire by substituting tuning-forks, which would emit sounds that meant letters. They were experimenting with diaphragms stretched over small box frames. Edison noticed that the sound-waves produced by his vocal chords greatly influenced the diaphragm. Possessing for a moment the dash of spirit he is riged up little paper figures of men and women. The diaphragm made them dance.

Quite accidentally, Bell discovered that he could hear his assistant's voice over the wire. That ended the experiments with the new telegraph; and with the telephone discovered by Bell, it looked for a time, as if the dancing paper rolls would constitute about the only pleasure that Edison would derive from the experiment, though he afterwards made the telephone a commercial success by inventing the first transmitter.

However, the dancing of the paper rolls made Edison think. "The power of the voice to agitate the air had been visualized. What could he do with this power?"

"In those days," said Edison, "my assistants were working by the phre-nology. I wanted to make a commercially successful electric light. A lamp that would burn only forty hours could never displace gas."

"I struck me I could make a better carbon by burning the sort of bamboo that is used for fish poles. I went for a pole and tried it. The experiment was even a greater success than I had dared to expect. The lamp burned for more than a week. I sent telegraphic orders to buy all the fish poles on the market. Within the week I had four thousand dollars' worth of poles piled up in various cities throughout the country."

Speaking about flying machines Edison expressed the opinion that the airships now used are very crude—that in ten years they will rise of their own volition and will be operated by any intelligent man without special training or experience.

AN ALLURING SCHEME

The remarkable ease with which a paying scheme can be capitalized was recently illustrated during the recent convention of the American Press Humorists in Canada.

Beside the lookout platform above the Falls of Montmorency, is the open chimney of an ancient house on the side hill. The mouth of the chimney is within easy reaching distance of the platform and one of the visitors suggested that it would be the proper thing to throw a Canadian copper or two—it being a somewhat serious problem to dispose of these bulky coins into the flue in order to appease the household gods, the Lares and Penates of the domestic hearth below. A dozen or more coppers were promptly tossed into the sooty void, and then the financial schemer hatched his venture.

"We will at once," he said, and he is a man who can talk rapidly, "organize the Montmorency Copper Trust capital $500,000, divided into 5000 shares—the promoter to take 3000 shares and the others to go on the market. The business of the trust will be to encourage visitors to throw unlimited quantities of coppers into the chimney. The sole expense will be an explanatory placard on the chimney top, and a tin pan in the fireplace, with a small boy to empty the receptacle as fast as it fills. What do you think of the scheme?"

"Great," replied Manager Charlie Carr, of the Quebec Railway, Light, and Power Co. "And I can guarantee you all the water your stock will absorb from our Montmorency power dam."

Then the visitors filed down the pathway and left the alluring scheme to its own devices—Cleveland Plain-Dealer.

WHY MEN GROW OLD

The Late George Francis Train Thought He Had Discovered the Important Secret

Mr. Robert Barr has been recalling the "discovery" of the late George Francis Train, who came over to London in the '50s to inaugurate the trans-magnetic system. "I have discovered the great secret at last," he said to Mr.
Barr; "the secret of life; the mystery that the ancients tried in vain to penetrate. Human magnetism is the cause of our existence. When the share given to each of us is spent we die. We recklessly squander the magnetism by shaking hands. I have ceased to shake hands except with children. Children so overflow with a surplus of magnetism that they augment the stock in a man of my age.
Since I ceased to shake hands with grown-up people I become younger and younger. I never walk down a crowded street for the mere contact of clothing absorbs magnetism."

It is not easy to see how the ancients disseminated their magnetism save in fighting; a more lavish waste, one would think than the mere shaking of hands. Mr. Barr questioned him as to how he claimed to have made the discovery. "Oh, any one could have made it if they had eyes to read and brains to comprehend.
The fact has been before the world for centuries. You will find it recorded in the eighth chapter of St.
Luke, forty-sixth verse: 'And Jesus said, Somebody hath touched me, for I perceive that virtue hath gone out of me.' For some years after this George Francis Train spent his days in good weather, in a New York park, surrounded by children. "He himself was perfectly happy, for he had discovered the secret of perpetual youth, and when death touched him on the shoulder, he was quite unperturbed, because he did not recognize he accosted him."

Just the Odd Number.

They tell in London the story of an elderly American lady who while sightseeing, visited Westminster Abbey, after going about for some time with the air of eager curiosity, she approached a vergier. "I wonder if you can help me?" she asked hopefully. "I am looking for the grave of King Edward III."

"Sorry, ma'am," said the vergier apologetically, "but we haven't got Edward III." "But," protested the visitor, "I understood that the Abbey was the burial place of kings."

"So it is, ma'am, in a way," returned the vergier, "but we only 'ave the odd numbers here."—Harper's Weekly.

Wagon Road

Now under construction, with Entwistle as the starting point, is 200 miles shorter than the present trail.
Thousands of settlers will use this road next winter and the following spring, making Entwistle their base of supplies, and offering wonderful opportunity to those with foresight and decision to seize it promptly.

The Western Canada Coal Co.

Control 10,000 acres of surface and coal rights adjoining the town of Entwistle, for which they paid $1,100,000.
This property is now being developed on a large scale, over forty men being employed at the present time. The company expects to be operating in October, and to have an output of 500 tons per day, which will be gradually increased to 1,000 tons per day.

The Black Diamond Coal Co.

Recently incorporated in the State of Washington, with a capital of $3,000,000, announce that they have acquired 4,480 acres of coal rights at Entwistle, and that development work will start at once. These two companies will employ upwards of 1,000 men in the course of the next few months.

Lumber Mills

At Entwistle employ forty men at the present time.

The Grand Trunk Pacific

Reached Entwistle ten months ago, and the development of the wonderful natural resources of the Pembina River immediately started, and today the development work has reached the stage where it is assured hundreds of men will be employed in mines, quarries and lumber mills.

The Canadian Northern Railway

Will lay steel into Entwistle this fall, furnishing the second transcontinental railroad, and offering mine owners, lumbermen and merchants competitive rates. Entwistle will be the terminus of the C.N.R. for one year, while their high level bridge over the Pembina River is being built. There is no other city in the Province where there is so much development work taking place. Entwistle is bound to be a city, and in the immediate future. Every

Some Women Who Just Love To Aviate Among the Clouds

London.—The recent terrible accident to the Baroness Delaunoy (formerly properly La Roche), who fell from her aeroplane at Reims, draws attention to the number of women to whom voyages in cloudland have become quite a hobby. "Women will be the last thing to be civilized," at least so said the late George Meredith, but in spite of his wisdom, it is by no means sure that he was right in this particular, for the modern woman goes in for everything that is new and fresh and for the last word in up-to-date improvements. Women took up telephones, drove motors as soon as their wiser halves went, went in taxis the first day that they were on the streets, and have now gone in hot and strong for balloons and aeroplanes. But one must confess frankly that foreigners started on this new sport far in advance of the average Englishwoman. However, as a nation we are known to be slow and sure, and now several of our smart matrons seem so keen on this airy amusement. The recent cross channel flights have excited immense interest; airships are built and bought, and the big crowd of women that one sees at Randolph on Saturday is proof enough, if any were needed that the airship craze has caught on in London.

Up to the present the only royal woman who has sailed in airships are the Queen of Wurtemberg, Princess August Wilhelm of Prussia, and the Duchess of Aosta. Princess di Teano is another Italian balloonist. She is not royal, but belongs by marriage to one of the noblest houses in Italy. And this may account for her pluck and daring—she is, although an Italian by birth, yet on the maternal side an Englishwoman, for she was a grand-daughter of the late Lady Walsingham, who was born a Miss Locke and who took as her second spouse a member of the Italian nobility.

A Daring Balloonist
Princess Blucher of Walstadt represents the Prussian aviators. By birth a Russian, she is a daughter of the Princess Radziwill, whose autography excited considerable interest. Her time seems to be divided among her elderly husband's estates in Prussia and Austria; a hotel in London, and the Island of Herm, in the Channel Islands. She has often made balloon ascents in London, and before long will no doubt go in for an aeroplane. Prince Blucher is a descendant of the famous field marshal, and among other relics owns the carriage in which the defeated Napoleon was taken off the field of Waterloo. Of the purely English aviators, Miss Fitzwilliam takes an interest in the sport and will no doubt have a flying future. And she has the necessary "grit" and go, as she is a daring rider to hounds and an expert bicyclist. The Hon. Mrs. Assheton Harbord is at the present moment our best-known airwoman. She was a colonial, a Mrs. Arthur Blackwood, and hails from Melbourne, and is one of the few examples of a rich colonial widow who elected to marry an Englishman. She is an enthusiast, and to be above the clouds has an immense charm for this plucky Australian. Mrs. Assheton Harbord has several times crossed the Channel in a hot air balloon, and while doing so has met with no end of adventures. Her airship has fallen low and trailed in the sea, and at different times passed through snow, hail and thunder storms. In fact, it is the moment of writing Mrs. Assheton Harbord is our most successful woman aviator in smart society.

Irish Girls as Aviators.
Ireland is famed for its sportswomen and more than one Irish girl has gone in for an aeroplane. Of these are Miss Lillian Blundell, who constructed her own biplane, and Miss Sheila O'Neil who is a skilled flyer and also an inventor. She made a model of a new design which was on view at the Aero show at Olympia, and her pet aviation is said to be of an aeroplane that she will not only fly, but fly on the water. Her keenest desire is to fly across both the English Channel and the Irish Channel.

Some one said that the first thing to do with a new sport was to dress it, and our tailors and dressmakers have thought out some good get-ups for an airship. There can be no doubt that a woman takes better in a light-colored dress in a motor car. Those who have soared aloft speak of the pure air and absolute stillness. No ugly caps are needed, no fearsome goggles; even a veil is not a necessary. Most women wear a neat toque and coat and skirt and often put on some good furs for use as well as ornament, for even in high summer the cold is often intense in the upper air and a great altitude.

GIRLS, HERE'S A WAY TO BE BEAUTIFUL.

Massage Your Nose if You Don't Like the Shape—Put Your Toes in Citrons.

Naples.—The famous Italian novelist, Matilde Serao, has given away some of her toilet secrets as follows: "The size of my nose didn't please me when I was about fifteen. To make it thinner I massaged it four or five times a day, and when I went to bed or I was lying down in the day time I encased it in a plaster of boiled roots of lilies.

"To make my hair curl better I am using a mixture of seventy grains of gum Arabicum and sixty grains of borax.

"To obtain nice nails on fingers and toes, I dip them frequently into fresh cut citrons, poking each finger and toe three or four times. Then, after drying them, polish them with anis powder.

"When nowadays I see crows' feet threatening my face, I give it a bath first in very hot water and then a cold douche."

On the 1st of July, 100 years ago, King Louis, who had been made ruler of Holland by his brother the famous Napoleon Bonaparte, abdicated the throne after only four years' reign.

Price 25 cents.

Mrs. LARRY GILLMAN, Caswell, Ont., writes:—"Our baby, who was born with Diarrhoea that it seemed her bowels were fairly raw. We tried everything we thought would help her but failed. A neighbor advised trying Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. We tried it and before the end of a week our baby was as well as ever. We always keep it in our home."

FUNERAL MUTES MAKE A BIG KICK

Paris.—The funeral mutes in the employ of the City of Paris made an other demonstration this week against the "hated uniform" they are compelled to wear.

A large number of them drove up to the square in front of the building hanging with them three coffins filled with old wool. Then they produced a figure dressed in the objectionable swallow-tailed coat and glazed tall hat, and, smothering it with oil, placing it on top of the coffins, finally setting fire to the whole.

As it burned they joined hands and danced around it singing "The hated uniform is dead. Many of the municipal councillors watched the scene from the windows of the Hotel de Ville.

A Big Success.

Kirke La Shelle met an actor and noticed that he was swearing a mourning band on his arm.

"It's for my father," the actor explained. "I've just come from his funeral."

La Shelle expressed his sympathy.
The actor's grief was obviously very real and great. "I attended to all the funeral arrangements," he said. "We had everything just as father would have liked it."

"Were there many there?" asked La Shelle.

"Many there," cried the actor with pride. "Why, my boy, we turned 'em away."—Success.

Breaking it Gently.

Simkins always was soft-hearted, and when it devolved upon him to break the news gently of Jones' drowning to the bereaved Mrs. Jones it cost him much paper, ink and per-piration before he sent the following.
"Dear Mrs. Jones—Your husband cannot come home today because his bathing suit was washed away.
"P.S.—Poor Jones was inside the suit."

Saturday Sale

A Visit to Edmonton's Annual Exhibition presents a fine opportunity for our visiting friends to supply present and fall necessities. With this end in view and to commemorate Edmonton's best and biggest event we are making our usual week-end sale a banner as far as values and seasonable presentations go.

There is no better way of convincing you of the importance of our Saturday Sale as a money saving event than by pointing to its remarkable reputation among Edmonton's shoppers—those who know value and fashion as well as any merchant.

New Fall Suitings and Costume Suits arriving daily

Suit lengths of new coarse-woven Cheviot cloths, in new plum, new taupe and navy shades. Having that new broken weave combined with weaving quality makes it a leader at a low price. The suit length of 7 yards, 54 inches wide on Saturday for $8.75.

Diagonal self-striped worsteds, 52 inches wide coming in wisteria, peach color, new plum, new greens and blues. A good heavy serviceable cloth that makes up into very stylish dressy suits. The suit length of 8 yards, 54 inches wide on Saturday for $12.00.

For the new fall coats, especially 34 and 36 lengths, we are showing a splendid range, heavy mannish tweed in many different colored broken checks, 60 inches wide. Authoritative styles—direct manufacturers' imports—guaranteed strictly all wool. See these whether you purchase or not. Saturday $2.00.

For lining the coats and jackets for fall we are showing a range of fancy brocades, 40 inches wide with a splendid satin finish. This is an excellent coat lining and a fine weaver, brought to take the place of satin, but will wear much better. Saturday 50c.

75c Dress Materials for 25c. An all wool tweed, 40 to 44 inches wide in a fair quality of cloth. For children's wear, coats, serviceable skirts and dresses. This is a No. 1 quality. A few pieces only to choose from. Regular 75c. Saturday 25c.

THE UMPIRE WAS MOBBED

A Terrible Struggle Took Place at the Benefit Game—Field Events Were Good

On Wednesday evening at large crowd assembled at Diamond Park when the benefit game between the Eskimos and the local picked team was played. The true score will never be known, as nearly every player had different figures. The game ended in a terrible riot when Umpire Garrison was surrounded by all the players, armed with bats, etc.

It was worth the price of admission to see Moose Baxter, Stuh Spencer, Pete Morse, etc., in the pitching box, while Slim Dell played first in an irreproachable manner. High throws were the order of the day, and Slim, on several occasions jumped 20 feet in the air and played the elusive pellet.

Roxy Walters played a good safe game in the outfield. On several occasions he played so deep that a search party had to be hastily organized to round up the missing garden. Spencer and Deacon were put out of the game for not having their fingers crossed and were replaced by two promising youngsters. Comedian Cox and Lussi were very much in evidence, and Bill made a big hit when he grabbed the finishing tape and started out to "tie" the score.

ESKIMOS WON THREE GAMES

The Miners Were the Victims—Slim Dell Pitched Splendid Ball As Did Hickey

Wednesday night was a gay one in Edmonton baseball circles as by reason of the Eskimos winning three games in the afternoon and Calgary dropping two to the Berry Pickers, things looked very easy for the locals winning the championship of the league.

By an arrangement with manager Lynch, three games were pulled off at Diamond Park, each of five innings duration and the locals won all three, by 8-1, 5-0 and 3-0. Sunflower Dell gave such an exhibition when he pitched the first two games as has seldom been seen in baseball circles. In the first game he held the visitors hitless and allowed only one safety in the second half. In addition, he issued only one check in the ten innings and fanned 17 of the visitors. The crowd gave him a well-deserved ovation.

Jack Hickey worked in the third game and held the Miners to two hits. Not an error was made on the Edmonton team during the afternoon and at their present rate of going they should trim Calgary with the greatest ease. The fielding features of the games were: Slim Dell at second base, and Bill's fine catch in left.

THE SORE LOSERS

There is a city in Alberta which harbors the poorest bunch of sports in the province. It is hardly necessary to mention its name, but it is in the southern part of the province. When its baseball team was ahead everything was lovely, the other teams were called dubs, and the scribbles of that city indulged in airy jays by their fellows. But listen to this wild vaporing from the Edmonton, which should know better:

"The spectacle of Lethbridge playing three five-inning games in one afternoon is unprecedented in baseball history. No team that had not a previous understanding about the conclusion of the game would do a thing like that. Just think of it! The two teams lined up at three o'clock and the game was on. The opposing pitchers. They pitch for ten innings straight ahead and find that they have pitched two games. They chopped the affair in two. That is too raw for any person to take. It was a frame-up, and every person can see it at a glance—a plain, ordinary, low down, vulgar, frame-up. If President Eckstrom stands for that, he hasn't a nerve as Calgary people gave him credit of having. The entire three games should be thrown out. It has been hard enough to keep the baseball flag flying in this part of the country without having to slack up against this thing. Calgary has the best ball team in the league, and then to be jobbed out of the fruits of victory at the end is the result."

"These few words are not written in haste, and certainly are not written in anger, or even in a spirit of vacation. They are the plain, bare, straight blunt facts, and there is no need of hedging about it."

"The first statement is false. The first occurrence took place in Hamilton some years ago. More opposing team was London. They were not exhibition games, but scheduled fixtures in the International League. Notice, the entire three games should be thrown out." Well we have a few odd dollars to wager that they are not thrown out, even though the Alberta does find fault.

HUSKIES TOOK FIRST GAME

Dellar Was Batted Out of the Box in the First Innings—Two Home Runs

Calgary, Aug. 26.—The Eskimos made an inauspicious opening in the Calgary series and dropped the first game last night by 7 to 2. The locals landed on Phil Dellar with great gusto and when the smoke had risen, six runs had crossed the plate. This was too much for Manager White and the peevish twister was derided. Huston taking up the burden. Sam did very well and was only found for one run. Standridge twirled for the homesters and his work pleased the 500 spectators mightily. Moose Baxter was not mystified very much by Pex's batters and out of four times up, got three singles and on the other occasion made first on fielders' choice. Stuh Spencer was also prominent in the hitting, making two singles.

Paddock, first man up, fanned, but the trouble then commenced. Carney singled, Clynies likewise, while Smith ripped out a homer, chasing in two runs ahead of him. Flanagan singled and Keltzaway walked, Stanley also getting a charity, filling the bases. Flanagan and Keltzaway scored on Comors' single and were Chuck Carter home on Standridge's triple. This ended the scoring in the awful first, and the score board custodian gaily hung up a "six" and the audience went delirious.

Edmonton got their runs in the seventh. Spencer singled and Brennan fanned. Walters hit safely and Huston also came through, filling the bases. Mills forced Spencer at the plate, but Moose was cool to the occasion, sending in two runs with a nice safety to right. Moose fled to center.

CALLIES A LOST THE FIRST GAME

Lloydminster Won Yesterday Morning by 3-2—A Large Crowd Enjoyed Match

It is seldom that Callies A. have a defeat registered against them, but they fell yesterday before the Tykes of Lloydminster in the first semi-final game of the Bennett Shield series by 3-2.

A finer day could hardly be wished for, for a football match, but yesterday morning, and a large holiday crowd journeyed to Diamond Park to witness the match between the two crack teams of the north.

It was a struggle from start to finish, and without wishing to belittle in the least the Tykes' grand victory, must be stated that the serious injury to Hope, severely handicapped the locals. The best left wing at 5 minutes after the start of the game, fell to the side, and sent him in a wicked shot. Hope was checked and fell, dislocating his elbow. From this moment until full time, Callies played a man shy.

Lloydminster played right up to advance notices. They have a fine team though the forwards are stronger than the backs. They play the pretty short-passing game, and bore right in on goal with their rushes. One thing noticed, they were very much in the luck, there being none of that aimless kicking in the air, in their play. They were the pick of their back division. Whitehead played a good game but there was nothing about his work so sensational as on his last appearance at Diamond Park. In Kerswell and Collier, Lloydminster possesses two crack forwards. Collier, the right outside, is a wonder. Small, fast and tricky, he caused any amount of trouble to the Callie backs. Kerswell at center, is a forward that can take a pass and score goals.

For Callies, Wilson in goal was not up to his usual form though it must be said that every chance he got was a wicked one. The backs worked hard while the halves were always prominent. It was the forwards who failed. The last Lloydminster line failed to move speedily for them, and the loss of Hope acted to disorganize their attack. Tod and Wright worked hard all through but Findlay and Chapman were cleared slow.

KILLED FOUR CHILDREN THEN HANGED HERSELF.

Fearful Crime of a Woman in Cologne—She had Been for Some Time in a Sanatorium.

Berlin, August 19.—The wife of a minor official at Cologne, named Weber, killed her daughter, her three grand children, two boys of 5 and 3 respectively, and a girl of 7, and the house dog, and then hanged herself from the window frame. The children all lay peacefully in their beds, and had apparently been suffocated in their sleep. Their mother showed scratches in the hands and face, and her neck bore marks which indicated that she had been strangled.

Fran Weber was for some time in a sanatorium, had already made an attempt to suicide, and had more than once tried to persuade her family to join her in self destruction. Her husband and son-in-law were absent from home at time of the tragedy.

Better than the best thing in life is the thing you imagine to be the best thing.

THE RACES ON THE FIRST DAY

The Indian Beat Tom Longboat In Straight Heats—Alice and Prince Rupert Won Running Events

The first day's racing at the fair brought out some good horses and several of the events furnished close finishes. There was lacking the usual despatch found at race meetings in running off the several heats, and at times there were tireless waits. This should not be, and with the telephone connecting the judges' stand and the stables there is no reason why the horses cannot be hurried to the starting post. If heats are to be run in the evening it is absolutely necessary that the races be started promptly at 7 o'clock. On Wednesday night they were late in commencing and the last heats were run in almost total darkness.

Tom Longboat, in the Hotelkeepers' Stake, was given a very indifferent drive and the driver was called up to the judges' stand and fined $10. The Indian won this race, the best of the day, in straight heats, though many of the spectators thought Longboat should have taken at least one heat.

Samona took the 250 pace, 245 trot in easy manner, proving the class of the field.

The running races were good, Alice won the quarter mile for ponies in straight heats, while Prince Rupert won the six-furlong dash in a driving finish from Outset. Josie S., the well-played favorite, was a poor third and the talent received a bump.

The farmers' green trot was all that its name implies, the three entries being very green and breaking at critical moments. Teddy won two heats and Alberta Mediator one.

There were only two entries in the half-mile dash for boys' ponies, Dick being the winner.

The officials of the day were as follows:

Starter—Dr. Eaton, Minneapolis.
Judge—D. Stewart, Orangeville, Ont.; P. L. Rushton, Camrose; W. R. West, Edmonton.
Times—Chas. May, C. J. Griffith, Wac Lothar.
Clerk of the course—Jos. Driscoll.

BOREAS DRIVES AN AUTO CAR ENDS CAREER WITH SUD- DEN JAR

Strange Tales of Misadventure Here for You; Only the Owner Swears It's True

"The time has come, the walrus said, To talk of many things, Of shoes, and ships and sealing wax; Of cabbages and kings."

Try this yarn on your system then; see how it makes you feel. It is about a summer wind and an auto-mo-bile. G. W. Isaac owned the car; he is a Chicago man. The car was standing by itself, with no hand at its wheel, its clutch relaxed, its brakes not set, this lone automobile. And then a gusty wind sprang up and blew the car along. This is the hard part to believe; it is coming pretty strong. For if you can believe this far the rest won't bother you. The rest seems fairly natural and maybe it is true. Urged by the storm winds' pinions then, the car sped down the hill; far faster than its engine ever went or ever will. It seems too bad it had not when it was flying, but it did; it snatched into a maple tree and then the curtain fell.

The first combined machine it was that came to grief. Both motor car and aeroplane—it will be many a day—before we see a taxicab spread wings and soar away. Thus innova- tions come to grief; always was the same, ever since Icarus tried to break into the game—Chicago Tribune.

MOTOR DRIVEN BATTLESHIP

British Admiralty May Use Gas En- gine on Battleship

Portsmouth, England, Aug. 23.—A local newspaper states that it has ex- cellent authority for the statement that the British Admiralty has de- cided to build an experimental motor driven battleship, propelled by in- ternal combustion gas engines. Naval engineers have long had their eyes on this type of engine as the ultimate form of power for naval vessels.

WAITING FOR G. T. P.

Mr. B. S. Scott, of the Pacific Pass Coal Co., has returned from the west and brings word that his company is now in a position to ship coal from their property and is only awaiting the completion of the G. T. P. branch to their mines. Development has proved very easy as the coal lies close to the surface, and the force of twenty men now on the work will be able to have every preparation made to ship out coal in the spring when it is expected that the Grand Trunk line will be completed to their land.

CIVIC HOLIDAY RACES AT THE EX

Trotting Events Were Keenly Contested—Ivanhoe, Prince Rupert and Nellie Racine Best Runners

YESTERDAY'S WINNERS

228 Pace—Dr. Forbes.
217 Pace—Plossie Wilkes.
Half mile—Ivanhoe.
1½ miles—Prince Rupert.
5½ furlongs—Nellie Racine.
Road Race—Molly B.

A very good programme of races was put on at Exhibition Park yesterday afternoon and the immense crowd of spectators enjoyed the keen finishes. The programme was much better handled than on opening day and there was little or no waiting between heats.

228 Pace, 223 Trot

The talent received a set-back in this race, which took four heats to decide, as Kootenai, the heavily played favorite, failed to repay its backers' confidence. Victor Bars took the first heat in a close finish with Cantus while Kootenai was third. Dr. Forbes was very much in evidence in the next three heats, winning them all. The time in the second heat was 2:22½.

217 Pace, 212 Trot

The second race was again an upset as Little Mac, who opened favor- ously, ran like a dog. Plossie Wilkes took the first two heats from Dixie Girl, the latter winning the third with Little Mac second. Polly, which had been running third and fourth, came in and won the fourth and fifth heats. Her best time was 2:22. Polly's driver was reprimanded for doing too much shouting.

Half Mile Running Race

Ivanhoe was the class of this race and won the last two heats, going away. The start in the first heat was a wretched one, the starter raising the barrier when three of the horses were faced the wrong way. The result was a lot of bumping and Ivanhoe was practically left though it made up a lot of ground when once straightened out.

1½-Mile Dash, Running

This proved a romp for Prince Rupert, who came away on the back stretch and won easily. The start was poor in this race and one horse was left flat-footed. The time was 2:01.

5½-Furlong Dash

"Bring back the bacon, Nellie," yelled one of the rail birds and Nellie Racine certainly did run like an odds-on favorite. Miss Raphael was second and Commerce third. Time, 1:12½.

AL. G. BARNES' CIRCUS.

The Al. G. Barnes' Big Three Ring Wild Animal Circus, and associate attractions, contracted by the manage- ment to provide the amusement fea- tures in connection with the Exhibi- tion, which opens to-day, arrived in Edmonton early this morning, coming in from Veranillo over the Canadian Northern Railway. Twenty double length railroad cars are required to transport the big circus, and soon after the train had been transferred to the exhibition grounds the work of unloading and erecting the tents was inaugurated. Everywhere there was evidence of system and discipline, and everything will be in readiness for the opening performance as soon as the formal dedication exercises have been concluded.

Manager Harrison, of the Exhibi- tion, is authority for the statement that the Barnes organization is the only tented attraction that has been authorized to appear on the Exhibi- tion grounds, and it should not be confused with any other concern that attempts to take advantage of the in- coming crowds to attract patronage.

The Al. G. Barnes Big Three Ring Wild Animal Circus and associate attractions, has been the feature of all of the big provincial fairs this season, and it is very evident, if one may judge by its apparent scope and char- acter, that it will more than sustain the enviable reputation established in other sections.

No less than a dozen meritorious attractions are carried besides the big animal circus itself. There are num- erous fun factories and riding de- vices, including a big Ferris wheel and a merry-go-round. The company also supports a twenty-six piece con- cert band, as well as numerous sen- sational open-air attractions which will be given both afternoons and evenings throughout the exhibition.

RUFUS POPE WILL NOT BE IN GLEICHEN CONTEST

Satisfied to Watch Others Fight and Thinks Riley Should Win Out

Calgary, Aug. 23.—Rufus Pope of Carleton is in the city on a business visit. When the ex-member for Com- pton, Que., was asked last night in re- gard to the political situation in the Gleichen constituency, on the outskirts of which Mr. Pope resides, he said that he is not taking any part in the election whatever.

"I am satisfied," he said, "to watch the contest between the two factions of the Liberal party, from the outside. I believe, however, that Mr. Riley should win out, on account of the in- dependent stand he has taken."

When asked as to whether he was going to assume the leadership of the Conservative party in Alberta, Mr. Pope said that the position had never been offered to him and he had never seriously considered it.

"When the time arrives," said Mr. Pope, "there will be no difficulty in securing a leader for the Conservative party in Western Canada. At the present time I have absolutely nothing to say for publication in regard to poli- tics."

"The crops are good out through the Kneehills country and the cattle are in fine condition."

The Difference

Two young lovers in a good-night embrace in the entrance hall were surprised by the girl's elder sister coming in.

"We were seeing which is the taller," the young man explained in some confusion.

"You are about ten inches taller than Edith," said the sister, "and she is at least ten shades redder than you."—Everybody's.

Would you be hated by politicians? Display inflexible moral directness and

CALL FOR MASONS AND BRICKLAYERS

Demand for these Artisans Created by Great Amount of Building

On account of the natural increase in the amount of building in the city, a demand has been created for brick- layers and masons. Contractors state that they want at least fifty more bricklayers and seventy-five additional masons.

The builders' exchange is endeavor- ing to better the conditions by get- ting into touch with the exchanges of other cities and by advertising. The shortage is proving a serious handicap to contractors and builders.

With the object of obtaining a com- plete series of pictures of the life of St. Kilda, an interesting expedition has just started for that lonely island, seventy miles west of the Outer He- brides. The party consists of Mr. Oliver G. Pike, nature photographer; Dr. Donald Hutchinson, authority on color photography, and Mr. Richmond Dixon, artist.

By HALLIE ERMINIE RIVES,
Author of "Hearts Courageous," Etc.

COPYRIGHT, 1909, THE BOBBS-MERRILL COMPANY

ed something, something, in some other world, in some other life, millions of ages ago.

He turned to his feet, overturning the table. The gold dust rattled to the floor.

"Your deal!" he said. Then, with a rage laugh, he fell sideways upon the bank.

August Prendergast stared at him with a look of amazement on his yellow face. "He's crazy as a chicken," he said.

He sat watching him awhile, then rose and kindled a fire on the unheated hearth. From a litter of cans and dented utensils in a corner he proceeded to cook himself supper, after which he carefully brushed up the scattered gold dust and returned it all to its hiding place. Lastly he rummaged on a shelf and found a vial. This proved to be empty, however, and he set it on the table.

"I guess you'll do well enough without any pain killer," he said to himself. "Doctors are expensive. Anyway, I'll be back by midnight."

He threw more wood on the fire, blew out the candle and, closing the door behind him, set off down the trail to the town, where a faro bank soon acquired the bill Jessica had given him.

Chapter 15

It was pitch dark when Jessica reached the bank, though she went like a whirlwind, the chill damp smell of the dewy beams in her nose, the chill rising shiverlike behind the rapid hoofs. She found David Stines anxious and peevish over her late coming.

She felt a relief when the old man grew tired and was wheeled to his bedroom.

Left alone, her reflections returned. She began to be tortured. She tried sat with a silent voice within her gave the lie to her vehemence. Some element of her character that had been rigid and intact was crumbling down. As an old sweet something that a dreadful snail had ground and crushed and annihilated was rising whole and undented, superior to any petty distinction, regardless of all that lifted combat in her inheritance, not to be gained or denied.

She leaned closer, listening to the incoherent words and broken phrases borne on the turbid channels of fever. But she could not link them together into meaning. Only one name he spoke clearly over and over again—the name Hugh Stines—repeated with the dreary monotony of a child conning a lesson. She noted the mark across his brow. Before her marriage, in her blindness, she had used to wonder what it was like. It was not in the least disfiguring. It gave a touch of the extraordinary. It was so small she did not wonder that in that ecstatic moment of her bride's kiss she had not seen it.

Slowly, half fearfully, she stretched out her hand and laid it on his. As if at the touch the mutterings ceased.

She bent and touched her lips to his forehead.

The eyes opened, and a confused, troubled look crept to them. Then they closed again, and the look faded out into a peace that remained.

A thrill ran through her, the sense of moral power of the weak over the strong, of the feminine over the masculine.

A rising flush stained her cheeks. With a sudden impulse and with a guilty backward glance she bent and touched her lips to his forehead.

She drew back quickly, her face flooded with color, caught her breath, then, drawing her hand over her head, went swiftly to the door and was lost in the darkness.

When toward midnight the fever ebbed, Sanderson had fallen into a deep sleep of exhaustion, from which he awoke his eyes next morning upon the figure of Prendergast slumped, face in mouth, in the sunny doorway.

He lifted himself on his elbow. That empty face had been inexplicably worn on with the delicious fantasies of his fever. Where and when had he known it? Then in a great tide welled over him the memory of his last conscious hours—the scene in the saloon, the fight, the music, the sudden appalling discovery of his name and repulse. He remembered the sickening wave of self-disgust, the fierce agony of resentment that had beat in his every vein as he walked up the darkening street. He remembered the thrown quartz. No doubt another missile had struck home or he had been set upon, kicked and pommelled into insensibility. This old man—a minor probably, for there were picks and shovels in the corner—had succeeded him. He had been ill, there was lassitude in every limb, and shoddy recollections tantalized him. He retained a dim consciousness of a woman's face—the face he had seen on the balcony—leaning near him, bringing into a painful disorder a sense of grateful coolness, of fragrance any of rest.

As he stared again at the seated figure, the grim fact reared like a grisly specter, deriding, thrusting its baggard presence upon him. In this little community, which apparently he had forsaken and to which he had by chance returned, he stood a rogue and a scoundrel, a thing to point the finger at and to avoid. The question that had burned his brain to fire flamed up again. The town despised him. What had been his career? How had he become a pariah?

By what miracle had he been so altered as to look upon himself with loathing?

He lifted himself upright, dropping his feet to the floor. At the movement the man on the doorstep rose quickly and came forward.

"You're better, Hugh," he said. "Take it easy though. Don't get up just yet—I'm going to cook you some breakfast."

He turned to the hearth, kicked the smoldering log ends together and set a sauceman on them. "You'll be stronger when you've got something between your teeth," he added.

"How long have I been lying here?" asked Harry.

"Only since last night. You've had a fever."

"Where is my dog?"

"Dog?" said the other. "I never knew you had one."

Harry's lips set bitterly. It had faded more hardly, then, than he. It had been a steady abate for the crowd to

DOES WEST AUSTRALIA WANT RUSSIAN JEWS

Hebrew Paper Says Colony Would Take a Million of Them

London.—The Jewish Chronicle says that the government of Western Australia is considering a business proposal for the purchase of an extensive area in that state on which to settle a million Russian Jews. This is a very astonishing statement, seeing that the total population of Western Australia at the last census in 1901 was only 184,224. If anything like a million Jews were dumped down in Western Australia they would outnumber the rest of the population, and the country would practically become a Russian colony with alien language and customs. It is difficult to believe that the English-speaking Western Australians can have contemplated so momentous a change. There are over 5,000,000 Jews in the Russian Empire.

A Kitchener Joke.

Kitchener stories are very popular in London just now, and one which has recently come out is causing great amusement.

During a portion of the South African War Lord Kitchener had as an orderly a young scion of a noble house who had joined the Imperial Yeomanry as a trooper. He could quite understand that he was at on terms of perfect equality with the members of the staff, and, having been summoned one morning to carry some despatches for the commander-in-chief he entered the room with jaunty air.

"Did you want me, Kitchener?" he asked, calmly, while the rest of the staff gasped for fear of what would happen next.

Kitchener, however, merely looked at him with a quiet smile. "Oh, don't call me 'Kitchener,'" he reminded gently; "it's so beastly formal. Call me 'Herbert.'"

Important.

Teacher.—Now, what little boy tell me what is the most important canal in the world.

Pupil.—I kin, mum.

Teacher.—Very well, Willie, may I tell me what is the most important canal in the world.

Pupil.—Th' alimentary canal, m'lord.

The impossible happens occasionally, and then everybody's man's course.

Never before in this history of the province has there been such a collection of show horses shown at any fair in Alberta. The best breed of stock from all parts of the country have been brought to the Exhibition, and who are even not interested in horses; it is certainly worth the while of those to walk through the buildings and inspect some of the famous horses of the West.

The well-known "Six Shooter" has been shown by the following:

There is an old idea that a show coming to a town and intending to stay a long time will always put off their best first, but this is not the case with Sherman's Musical Comedy Co., "Girls at the Beach" was a vehicle that carried the Sherman company into the hearts of the audience. There was a certain buff, boom, bang idea about the whole affair. The chorus seen in a number of new dances and songs that are pleasing. Every member of the company is right up to the minute in this bill and never a dull moment is allowed. Tom Deeson has hit the right spot and the Lyceum should be jammed to the door every night.

RUNAWAY BEAUTY WAS SMUGGLED IN A TRUNK

Romance of a Beautiful Spanish Girl—How She Foiled Her Stern Parents

New York.—Pounding a typewriter in the District Attorney's office in the New Federal Building is the first blind Assistant United States District Attorney. He was appointed by District Attorney Wise, and is assigned to the arduous task of drawing all the briefs in all the criminal cases handled by the New York Federal legal authorities. The Sightless Assistant District Attorney is Raymond C. Brown, son of a wealthy New England family and a graduate of the Harvard Law School of the class of 1908. In college he had a remarkably brilliant record, and was specially marked by the faculty because of his close application to study and his wonderful capacity of acquiring knowledge. He finished an honor man in a class of 500 despite this infirmity.

"He is certainly a wonder," is the District Attorney's comment. "He came to me with letters of recommendation and somewhat doubtful I gave him a chance as the press of business seemed to warrant it. That was all he needed. He is well founded in the law and has natural perception that is phenomenal. I understand that he has been blind as a result of an illness, ever since he was eight years old. His appointment is for no fixed term, but I think there is no danger of his losing his place at this time."

Jack! How is it that Mrs. Brown can get a quiet horse and drive her lady friends and you cannot get one safe for me. Well, my dear, Brown deals at Horner's Livery and you phone 2234 and order one. Oh, Jack, what a life!

THIS BLIND LAWYER AFTER THE CRIMINALS

New Assistant District Attorney Is Sightless, But Draws Up Office Briefs

Tangier.—The beautiful Spanish girl whose adventures since she fled from the house of her father, the doctor at the Spanish Legion here, threatened to give rise to an international incident, is at Gibraltar. The story of her romantic flight from Tangier is now told by an officer of a Spanish steamer plying between Tangier and Gibraltar.

The girl ran away from her parents and took refuge with some English friends, Mr. and Mrs. Levison. The doctor had disapproved of his daughter's friendship with Mrs. Levison, and threatened to place her in a convent. When the Spanish police went to take the girl back home Mr. Levison threatened with firearms if they dared to enter the estate. Then the girl mysteriously disappeared.

It seems that a stowaway Moor went on board the Gibraltar steamer with a large cane box which he was very careful to keep upright. He handled it with peculiar attention, placed it in a quiet spot and sat on it.

Then when the ship was half way across it was noticed that there was an extra passenger on board—a pretty girl. When asked for her ticket she said she had not one, but offered to pay the fare. This was accepted. The captain had heard nothing of the romance, and she landed without hindrance.

REFUSED HOLY COMMUNION.

Clergyman Denied Sacrament to a "Deceased Wife's Sister."

London.—The refusal of Rev. Turnell Barrett, the Vicar of Sandgate, to allow Mrs. William B. Bennett, wife of a local captain of Territorial Artillery, to partake of Holy Communion, because she is the sister of her husband's first wife, is exciting keen interest in the neighbourhood.

The vicar yesterday explained his attitude to a Daily Express representative:

"I am sorry that I have had to take this step—more sorry than I can express," he said, "but I am quite powerless in the matter."

"I am bound by my ordination vows, and there is no getting away from them. I had to make certain declarations again when I was inducted, and I am bound in honor."

An officer of the army does not discuss reasons of discipline, but is bound by his marching orders, and so am I bound. I must adhere to the prayer book."

Reminded of the decision of the Court of Appeal that Canon Thompson acted illegally in repelling Mr. and Mrs. Banister from Holy Communion in similar circumstances, the vicar said that he had nothing to do with that; he was bound by Christian law, and could not admit that laws on the statute book of the country could override Canon or Christian law.

"If that was allowed, Christianity might disappear altogether," he said. Asked if he intended resigning if the Archbishop of Canterbury decided against him, Mr. Barrett said that he declined to anticipate the decision.
